

Date: 11th December 2023

Re: New Zealand Building Product Information Requirements

Product ranges applicable to this statement:

- BOSS FireMortar-360

Application/ intended use: The above listed product is a gypsum based mortar product that is used for providing passive fire stopping and fire protection to maintain a buildings fire resistance rating. Correct use and application of these products is intended to restore/maintain the fire resistance rating of the building element they are installed within.

Any design, installation or maintenance requirements are to adhere to the technical guidance document and/or referenced test data for each respective product.

The above listed products are manufactured to meet the requirements of New Zealand Building Code Clauses: C3-C6 as applicable. Compliance is typically demonstrated through testing or assessment to AS1530.4:2014 and AS4072.1:2005.

None of the above listed products are subject to any known warnings of bans under Section 26 of the Building Act 2004.

Any further details along with additional contact options are available on the BOSS Fire Website.

